Manpower Inc. Cited as Overall Global RPO Leader in Everest Research Institute's Latest Recruitment Process Outsourcing Report

February 15, 2011

MILWAUKEE, Feb. 15, 2011 /PRNewswire/ -- Manpower Inc. (NYSE: MAN), a world leader in innovative workforce solutions, was highlighted in Everest Research Institute's January 2011 Recruitment Process Outsourcing (RPO) Report. This annual report reviews the RPO market's 20+ established service providers using the Everest PEAK matrix, which categorizes RPO providers into leaders, major contenders, and emerging players based on their market success and overall RPO delivery capability by evaluating their performance, experience, ability and knowledge. Manpower is ranked as the leader with the highest rating in scale, technology capability, and geographic delivery footprint.

Applying the PEAK methodology, Manpower was noted as the overall leader and only provider with capabilities across all regions (North America, Asia Pacific, EMEA and South America). Everest Research cited Manpower as having 10 percent or greater market share in four key verticals: manufacturing, financial services, high-tech and telecommunications, and the public sector. Additionally, Manpower was noted as the RPO vendor managing the most exempt employees of any of the providers covered in the report.

"We are honored that Everest acknowledged our role as the RPO industry's market leader," said Kate Donovan, managing director of RPO in North America and head of the Manpower RPO global Center of Excellence. "Recognizing that talent is a major agent for our clients' growth, we have made investments in our breadth of offerings and global footprint to ensure that we are best equipped to serve their needs with scalable solutions worldwide. This recognition from one of the most respected sources of global business process outsourcing intelligence is a testament to the innovative workforce solutions we deliver that help our clients win."

"Our assessment shows that Manpower has market leading delivery capabilities and it has been able to convert that into market success by winning a large number of new deals," said Rajesh Ranjan, research director, Everest Research Institute. "It is also one of the very few providers to have significant RPO experience in all the major geographies and industry verticals."
