

Experis Unveils Global Brand Refresh Centered on "Human Ingenuity"

As organizations struggle to turn AI investment into results, Experis advances its evolution as a global technology services leader built on the power of specialized talent and human expertise

MILWAUKEE, May 27, 2026 /PRNewswire/ -- Experis, part of the ManpowerGroup (NYSE: MAN) family of brands, today announced a global brand refresh built around a clear and differentiated market position: only Experis brings together specialized talent, technology services, and delivery expertise to help organizations turn innovation into measurable business outcomes.

Anchored in the idea that it takes Human Ingenuity to unlock the power of technology, the refreshed identity brings this positioning to life with a more confident, contemporary, and human-centered expression of the Experis brand. The core logo has been refined rather than reinvented, preserving brand equity while signaling a clear step forward. The evolution also reinforces Experis' new descriptor, A Global Leader in Technology Services, marking a deliberate shift from IT staffing provider to technology services leader.

The timing is deliberate. Organizations everywhere are investing heavily in AI and digital transformation, and the technology alone is not delivering the outcomes they need. What's missing is the human expertise to make it work.

"That gap is exactly where Experis lives," said Kye Mitchell, President, Experis U.S. "Every client we work with is trying to close the distance between the technology they've invested in and the outcomes they need. We close that gap, with the right talent, the right services, and the right expertise. That's 'Human Ingenuity' in practice."

"The technology market is moving faster than at any point in our history, and the organizations that win will be those that can marry technical infrastructure with human capability at a global scale," Experis Europe Brand Leader James Hallahan said. "That is exactly what Experis is built to do. This brand refresh gives us clarity, clearer language for what we do, a sharper position in a crowded market, and a brand that finally reflects the work we have been doing every day."

For clients, Human Ingenuity comes to life through Experis' enterprise AI services suite, which helps organizations move from AI experimentation to enterprise execution through specialized AI talent, governance-first delivery, and strategic technology partnerships. It is how Experis helps clients build and run AI solutions that produce real outcomes, not just pilots.

For technology professionals, Experis is introducing Say HI, the talent-facing expression of Human Ingenuity. Say HI is an invitation to bring skills, judgment, and ambition to organizations and challenges where they can make the greatest impact. It positions Experis as a career partner, not a transaction.

The refreshed brand launches globally today across Experis' digital and social channels. Rollout continues across all regional touchpoints throughout 2026.
